Dear Friends,

Three years ago on December 19, Jan Sharp, former Vice President of Human Resources at Capital Broadcasting, lost a hard-fought battle with cancer. Jan spent much of her free time and energy ensuring a better life for others. At the time of her passing, she was the elected Secretary for the board of Method Child Development Center. Since her death, the board at Method has wanted to do something worthy of her memory. Thus, we are pleased to announce the formation of the Jan Sharp Memorial Scholarship to help low income families receive affordable and dependable childcare and early education.

Though the Jan Sharp Memorial Scholarship was just created, it has already assisted many families. For example, a one-month scholarship allowed a mom to start a new job immediately—before she had a paycheck to pay for the first month of childcare. Another parent works at a nearby fast food restaurant and would be unable afford childcare in the Raleigh area without a discount.

Perhaps it was because Jan worked in human resources that she understood that without affordable and dependable childcare, parents will not be able to work to support their families. Without early education initiatives, the cycle of poverty continues for those families.

Please remember Jan on December 19 and help us make Jan's dream of helping others a reality.

Sincerely,

Caroline Farmer
Chair, Board of Directors
